We will also advise you of any decisions made relating to your request, and the reasons for that decision. Freedom of Information Applications

Applicable legislation: Freedom of Information Act 1991

Council captures and retains a huge amount of information about the services and activities that are carried out each year. Under the Freedom of Information Act 1991 you have the right to request information that is held by Council, and to apply to have amendments made to documents that relate to you which are incomplete, incorrect, out of date or misleading.

Under the Act, we should respond to your request within 30 days. Because Council responds so promptly to Freedom of Information requests, it helps if your application is very specific about the information you require. In some cases, before we can release information, we may need to consult with another party, allowing them time to state an objection to the release of information which also relates to them. This may add a delay to the processing of your request.

We have trained and accredited Freedom of Information Officers who will process your request. They will access, identify and refer to any information relevant to your request. Council is not bound to release all information you request. The Freedom of Information Officer will make a decision about whether the information you requested can be released to you, partially released, or not released to you.

Once an assessment has been made about your request, in most cases, we will either post or email the relevant information to you. In some cases, you will be asked to attend Council's Civic Centre to view the documents you have requested. Once the request has been completed, we can also provide you with further rights of access or explain how the determinations were made and provide information about how to request a review of the findings.

You can find more information, and a form to use when you submit a Freedom of Information request on our website.

You can make a FOI application: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• In person at the Civic Centre, or any Library- Council Office or Community Centre• By sending an email to service@cityofpae.sa.gov.au• By sending a letter to PO Box 110, Port Adelaide, SA 5015	Examples might include: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Requesting information about a property or business• Requesting the name and address of another person• Requesting information about how a decision to change or cease a program was made	You can help us to respond to your request by: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Completing a FOI application form• Clearly stating what information you require• Making payment of the prescribed fee at the time you lodge the request• Providing evidence of a concession, if you have one

Complaints

We welcome feedback about our services at any time, but particularly if you are dissatisfied about a product, service, action, behaviour or decision. This may be because the product or service, or the behaviour of Council's representative does not meet your expectations and/or the standard stated or implied by Council. This includes dissatisfaction about a service that has been or should have been delivered at a certain time or in a certain way.

So that we can assist you as promptly as possible, all Council staff are able to receive and handle your complaint in the first instance. In some cases, your complaint will be passed to someone else within the Council. This may occur where a Council Officer has been involved in the matter that you wish to complain about, where your complaint is about an issue that requires a decision to be made at a more senior level, or where your complaint relates to more than one Council work area.

Where a resolution of your complaint is not possible at the time you make the complaint, we will acknowledge that it has been received within five working days. We will let you know the likely timeframes required to resolve the complaint, and provide you information about the progress of the complaint.

In all cases, we will provide you with a response to your complaint, stating how decisions were made, and giving you options should you consider the response to be unsatisfactory. These options may include making an appeal to Council, or contacting an external agency such as the SA Ombudsman.

Council Staff are required to adhere to a Code of Conduct. Any person may make a complaint under this Code.

Internal Review of Council Decisions (Section 270)

Applicable legislation: Local Government Act 1999

If you have made a complaint and not received a satisfactory outcome, or you are dissatisfied with a decision made by Council or its representative you may wish to lodge a request for an internal review of that decision. An Internal review of a Council decision is available under section 270 of the Local Government Act 1999. This is a process established by legislation that enables Council to reconsider all the evidence utilised to make a decision, including new evidence if relevant. You may wish to request this action if you do not feel satisfied with the resolution offered to a complaint.

We will formally acknowledge the receipt of your request for a review of a decision, within 5 days of receipt. Council will also advise you about the timeframe expected for dealing with the request.

An Internal Review Officer will be allocated to carry out the review. They will be able to explain the review procedure to you. Steps required to conduct the review may include undertaking enquirers to allow all relevant parties to provide factual information and accounts of the decision-making process that led to the request for review; seeking legal advice if warranted or arranging for independent review (where necessary) by an appropriate person.

In most cases, we would expect to finalise your request within 21 days, however in some cases it may take longer. Council will keep you informed about the progress of the review.

Once Council has received your request, and made a decision to reaffirm or rescind the original decision, the Internal Review Officer will provide an response to your request, stating how decisions were made, and giving you options should the response be unsatisfactory. These options may include mediation, or contacting an external agency such as the SA Ombudsman.

If you elect to progress with mediation, we will work with you to select an appropriate mediator or evaluator, from an agreed panel of persons. Costs and expenses associated with a mediator or evaluator are to be shared equally between yourself and Council.
