"The City of PAE acknowledges and pays respect to the traditional custodians of the land on which we stand, the Kurna people of the Adelaide Plains and pays respect to Elders past, present and emerging. We recognise and respect their cultural heritage, beliefs and relationships with the land. We acknowledge that they are of continuing importance to the Kurna people living today"

Mayor Claire Boan

Welcome to the warmer weather and our Spring issue of PAE Today. In this edition you will find the latest news and stories from our community and information about our programs and projects. You can also access PAEtoday online at www.paetoday.com.au As we adjust to our "new normal" with limits on group gatherings, social distancing, and regular hand sanitising as part of our daily lives now, we are also looking at our overall economy, and leading our recovery to emerge as a stronger and more sustainable City post COVID-19.

Many of our residents and businesses have been hit hard by the pandemic, so we are working to reinvigorate our City and support our residents, local businesses and community groups to get back on their feet.

The next few months will be particularly difficult for some of our community, as Federal Government financial support is wound back. We have provided rates relief options including deferring rates payments, setting up individual payment plans, and waiving interest and late payment fines. This will continue for those affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, so please contact us to discuss your individual situation and the rate relief options that may be available to you.

To provide direct support and deliver a range of projects, we have developed a recovery framework and committed $2.4 million to be used where it is most needed over the next twelve months.

We have identified seven key priority areas and immediate projects and actions where we can focus our recovery efforts with real and pragmatic solutions. Then, as additional impacts of the pandemic become clearer and we engage further with you to better understand your needs and opportunities, we will add activities to our long-term recovery plan with further strategies and actions.

So please talk to your Councillors in your local Ward (listed on Page 5) so we can be responsive and flexible as we gain a better insight into what you need to recover and be part of a reinvigorated, vibrant, resilient and liveable City with even stronger community and business connections.

You can also have your say about a number of major projects and strategies that we are considering for the future. We have set up our interactive consultation site:

www.haveyoursay.cityofpae.sa.gov.au where you can provide feedback and participate in the future of your neighbourhood.

So enjoy PAEtoday, and see what makes our region such a great place to live, work and play.

Ward in focus

Port Adelaide

The Port Adelaide ward includes the suburbs of Gillman, Rosewater, Port Adelaide, Alberton, Queenstown, New Port, Glanville, Ethelton and Semaphore South. Glanville Hall, featured in our cover shot, was built in 1856 and was the original residence of Captain John Hart; Premier and Treasurer. Glanville was Hart's mother's maiden name. Hart's Mill in Port Adelaide was also named after him.

The Barker Inlet is an estuary, a semi-enclosed body of water where the sea begins to mix with urban land freshwater runoff. Estuaries are a particularly sensitive and biologically rich part of marine and coastal environments. Due to this process tidal areas also act as filters and channels for the pollutants and nutrients that run off the land and into the marine environment.

Both the Barker Inlet and St Kilda wetlands have been identified as Wetlands of National Importance and encompass the coastal waters, fringing mangroves, tidal creeks and adjoining wetlands and salt fields from St Kilda to Outer Harbor. These mosaic landscapes are known as the southern area of the Adelaide International Bird Sanctuary and also home to the Adelaide Dolphin Sanctuary.

Cr Joost den Hartog

I have always loved Port cities. The work ethics, the shared values and the sense of community seem to be stronger in Ports. I moved here from Amsterdam 15 years ago, and I have never left. What goes for port cities around the world goes for Port Adelaide times two. The sense of community in the Port was my inspiration to become a Ward Councillor. Our family lives in Alberton in an old shop and we feel so lucky with our rich and caring neighbourhood. Taking care of our environment and each other are my priorities on Council.

Cr Steve Vines

The Port Ward is rich in character, history and diversity. From the ongoing wisdom of Kaurna elders to the heritage precinct's character buildings, museums and harbour, to our established suburbs and housing developments now being built. I live and work in the Heritage Precinct right in the heart of the Port. My daily walk along the loop path around the inner harbor takes me past the beautiful Workers Memorial at the Black Diamond Corner, where I often pause to reflect on the service of those ordinary men and women who did extraordinary work in our community in the past. As my walk continues to the beach at Semaphore South, I consider how fortunate I am to be living in such a wonderful community.

HARD WASTE COLLECTION

We provide four free residential hard waste collection services each year to help you to dispose of waste items too heavy or large for the blue bin. To use this service, simply make a booking using the details below. Your items must be placed out the night before collection and be able to be safely lifted by two people. Position items on the nature strip in a safe manner, clear of walkways, and not on the road or footpath, in an area not exceeding 2 metres in length and 1 metre in width (mattresses exempt). Before you put your hard refuse out, please consider donating good quality furniture and other items to local charities or op-shops. When you divert materials away from hard waste collection, you save resources and help us become more sustainable. We also recycle your hard waste where possible. Electronic items are collected in a ute and trailer, and taken to a facility for recycling. It is only where recycling is not possible that materials are taken to landfill.

IF IT GROWS, IT GOES (IN YOUR GREEN ORGANIC WASTE BIN!)

Using your kitchen caddy for food waste presents the biggest opportunity to reduce the household waste you send to landfill. Around 40% of household waste is food scraps.

Placing food and garden organics to the green bin is great for the environment. Most landfill greenhouse gas emissions come from decomposing organics like food scraps.

Organic nutrients should be reused to grow plants and food, not sent to waste in landfill.

Food waste and garden organics make compost and mulch. This is a great soil conditioner for gardens, farms and sporting fields that reduces weeds and helps retain water.

All food scraps go in the green bin, including:

- Cake and bread
- Cooked and processed food
- Fruit and vegetables
- Meat, seafood and bones (cooked or raw)
- Coffee grounds and tea bags
- Egg and oyster shells
- Paper towel and tissues
- Dairy products (cheese and yoghurt)
- Compostable bags and cutlery with the certified compostable symbol

CHANGES TO COMPOSTABLE BAGS

This year we are trialing a different service for compostable bags because data indicates only one in three households use them. We want to improve access for our residents that do use the system by delivering bags as required before you run out and have to wait for an annual delivery. We hope improving access to compostable bags and caddies will increase usage. This is a trial and we will monitor your orders to determine future distribution methods. Each residential PAE premise is entitled to 150 bags each year, and one kitchen caddy. Compostable bags are available for collection at Civic Centre, Enfield and Greenacres Libraries or to request a delivery of bags or a replacement kitchen caddy, contact us as below:

The Road to RECOVERY

We're committed to doing all we can to reinvigorate the City of PAE and support the community to recover from the impact of COVID-19. We want to work hand in hand with you over the coming months, making sure we communicate well, listen and learn and of course, get things done. We have developed a COVID-19 Recovery Framework which sets out our commitment to deliver a range of projects to provide direct support to our community and businesses. These projects will encourage investment and job creation, keep people safe and healthy, improve wellbeing, enhance our places, care for our environment and support businesses. We want to explore ideas and collaborate with our community, so over the coming months we will be reaching out and giving you the opportunity to share your thoughts, experiences and ideas in a way that works for you. You can find information about how we are progressing on our website and social media.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKING

NECAP Team Op-Shop

The North East Community Assistance Project (NECAP) was the first organisation to receive a COVID-19 Response Grant. Co-located at the site of the Children's Centre at Hillcrest, this independent community service provides community support programs, and operates as an op-shop. Typically, proceeds from op-shop sales are used to supply food parcels for local families in need. The op-shop was required to shut during COVID-19, and this left the NECAP Team with less resources to distribute, at a time of increased demand. Their funding grant was used to purchase products to keep volunteers, customers and clients safe, as well as food to be distributed as part of their emergency relief program. The op-shop at 489 North East Road, Hillcrest has now reopened. We are currently still accepting applications for our Response grants, and more information is available at:

THE HART OF THE MATTER

Growing connections in Semaphore

Staying connected to friends, neighbours and family has had its challenges over the last six months. We have recently joined forces with the Heart of Semaphore Café, at 103 Semaphore Road, to provide local people the opportunity to reconnect with the community or build new connections. On Mondays and Thursdays join the walking group at 9.30am for an easy walk around the area, then a coffee and chat at the café from 10.30am. Contact Kathryn on 0410 148 486 if you would like to be involved. Or, on Tuesdays from 9.30-11.30am, visit the café for board games, conversation and company. You may also like to add to the gratitude tree out the front of the café, by sharing what you are grateful for or a positive comment to remind others of all the good things we have in PAE.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

Inspection fees waived for small businesses

We recognise that many small businesses have been impacted by COVID-19; including our cafes, snack bars and restaurants. We visit most food businesses every twelve months to provide advice and to ensure they comply with safety standards. We normally charge a fee for these inspections but are waiving these inspection fees for eligible businesses during the 2020-2021 financial year. If you have a food business in PAE and need some extra advice or support about how to manage the risks associated with COVID-19, you can contact our Environmental Health Team on 8405 6600. Any business owner that has been impacted by the pandemic can also contact our newly appointed Business Advisor at the Adelaide Business Hub on 8440 2440 for advice and information.

COLOUR OUR CITY

Making brighter places

Over the coming year we will be engaging artists and the community in a range of creative placemaking projects which encourage residents to get creative in their neighbourhoods and bring colour to our streets. Projects will include urban greening activities in parks, on streets and on private verges. We will be commissioning artists to create interest and whimsy across PAE with small scale and ephemeral art pieces for local places including Community Centres, Libraries, streets and parks. If you have any ideas about spaces, streets or locations that could do with a dash of colour, please let us know.

Rates Relief

We would like to offer our support if you are one of the many people or business owners in our community who are currently experiencing financial difficulty as a direct result of COVID-19.

There are a number of options that can help you at this time, including a deferral of this current rate notice payment or setting up an individual payment plan. If you need to defer this quarter's rate notice payment due to COVID-19 hardship, we will waive all interest and fines associated with the late payment of these rates. Please contact us to discuss your individual situation and the rate relief options that may be available to you.

Celebrating PAE heritage

one plaque at a time

Our City has a unique and fascinating history. We are working with owners of heritage-listed properties to help celebrate and raise awareness of just a small proportion of this history through the blue Heritage Plaques scheme, now in its second year. Recently, 15 blue Heritage Plaques have been installed, adding to the 28 installed in 2019. This year there is a mix of commercial, institutional and residential buildings located across PAE. This round we received nearly 70 applications and we will be continuing to work through these applications in the coming years. It has been wonderful to see how important preserving and celebrating local heritage is to the PAE community. Information on our identified heritage buildings can be found on our website. The website includes information on the location of the current and previous year's sites, as well as historic information, photos and links to other interesting information on each of the properties.

Take a virtual tour of the plaques here: cityofpae.sa.gov.au/explore/libraries/local-history

CLIMBING THE BEANSTACK

A thousand and one reasons to love reading

The 1001 Books Before School initiative is aimed at children up to five years of age and their families. Reading with your child for just 15 minutes a day is a wonderful way to bond together and give them a head start in life. The Beanstack website and app are fun and easy to use and registration only takes two minutes. To keep your child motivated, and to teach them about goal setting, the app allows them to earn badges and rewards as you log their reading journey. If you would prefer to track manually, please pick up a tracking sheet from your local PAE Library which you can stick on the fridge and mark off as you read.

To join the challenge and get started, simply search for the Beanstack app on your smart phone or device or visit the website below. Your first reward for joining is a Registration Bag. Please visit your nearest City of PAE Library to collect. Following this, every 100 books read will earn you a prize of a book. Happy reading!

AMY IS OUT ON THE ROAD

Keeping the connection during COVID-19

Community Library Outreach Officer Amy has been with the City of PAE Libraries for just over 12 months. Working for the Libraries has allowed Amy to combine her love of reading with her passion for helping and supporting the community. An animal lover, Amy has a degree in Animal Science and previously worked at the Animal Welfare League. After four and a half years and with a heavy heart, she knew it was time for a career change. Amy decided to explore her interest in books and media and found herself studying Librarianship. Now Amy drives the Library van all across the City of PAE delivering books, CDs, DVDs and puzzles to the homes of residents who qualify for the service. With the impact of COVID-19 still being felt throughout the community, it is more important than ever to have a regular service that allows residents to feel connected and less isolated. Carmel from Enfield is a regular Home Library customer and receives a visit from Amy every two weeks. Carmel's family has grown up and moved out, so she spends her days reading the books that Amy carefully selects for her. "I just love the selection and service" she said upon receiving the latest bundle of books Amy has prepared. Another customer, Robert from Broadview says "I appreciate the CDs and I'm happy with the selections. She brings me World Music, Jazz, Blues and Inspirational. It's really great". Amy further adds to the personalised service by reading books and studying subjects she wouldn't ordinarily but does this so that she can better understand what her customers might like. When Amy isn't on the road or reading, she loves to spend time knitting and listening to music with ex-hearing dog Socks and adopted cats Taylor Purkins and DC. Ian | Local Volunteer

Ian has had a lifelong affinity with Port Adelaide. As a boy, he would spend his summers with his grandparents in the Port, and he loved exploring the area and fishing and swimming. He joined the Port River sailing club as a young man, becoming the club's training officer for two years.

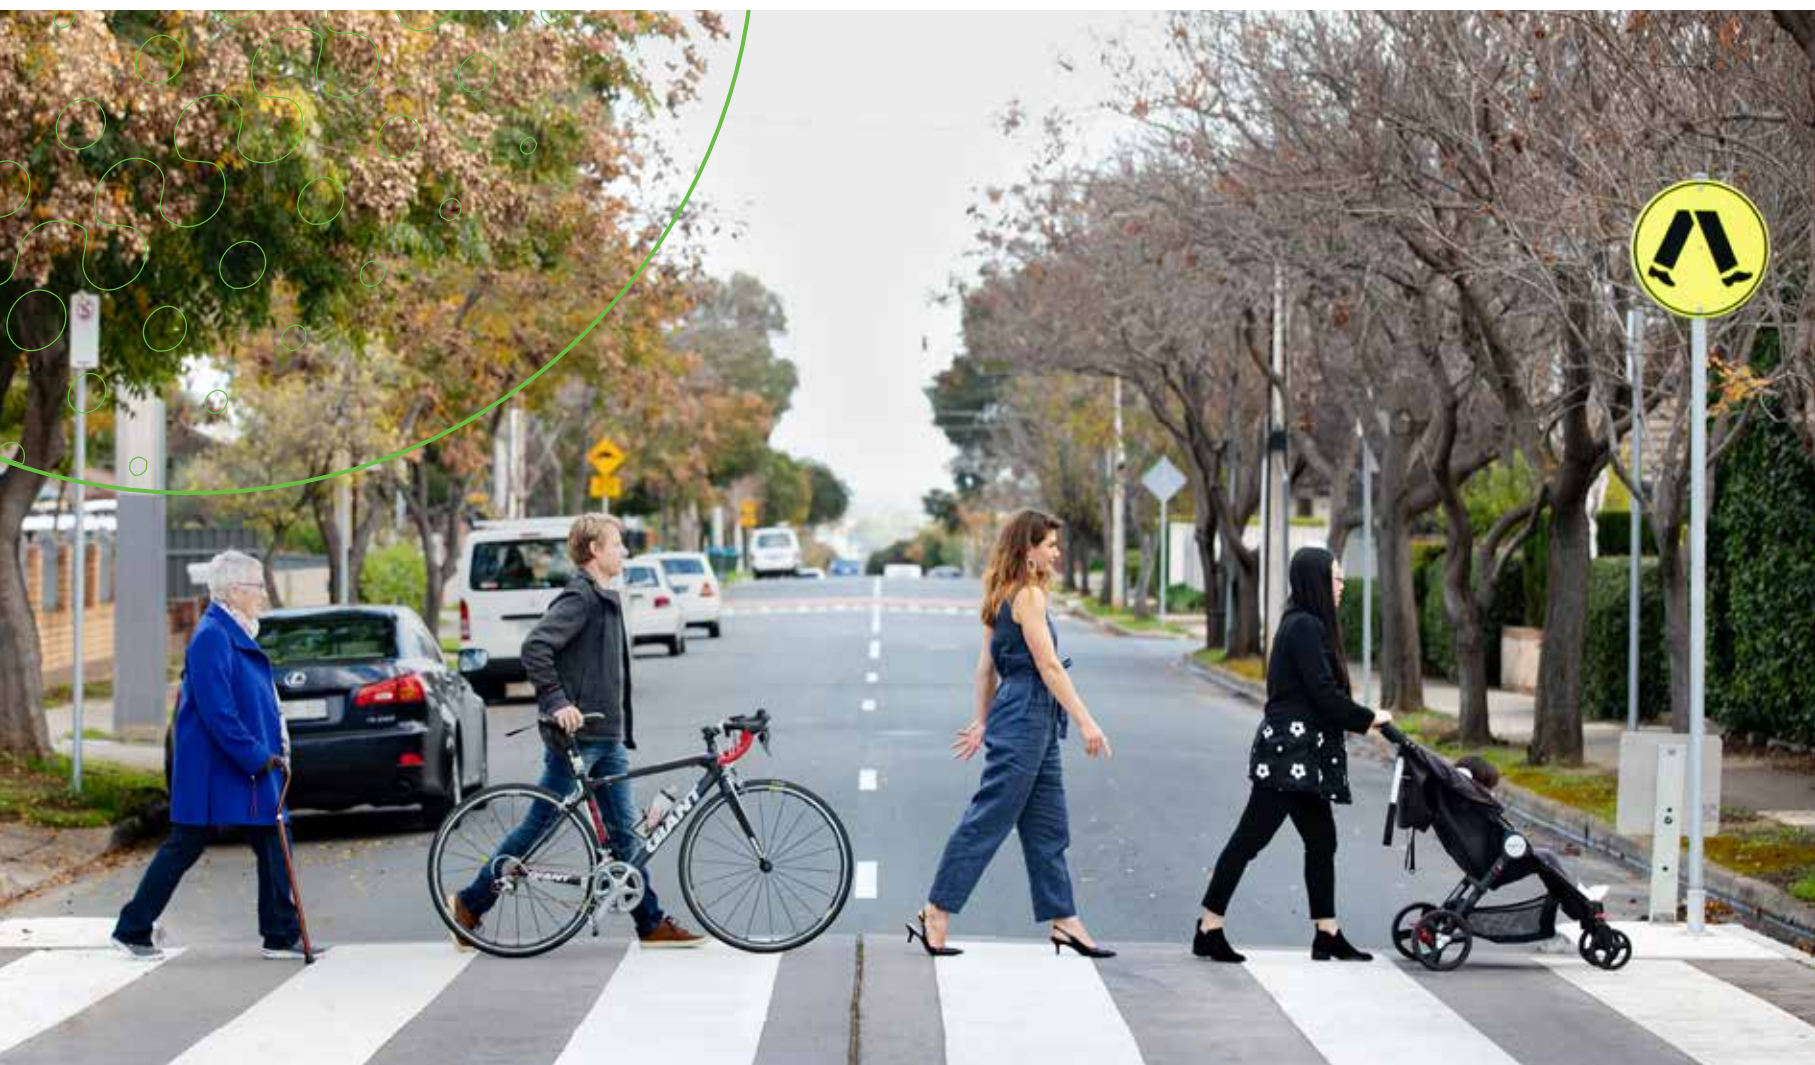

Now, Ian is a volunteer at the Visitor Information Centre, sharing his knowledge of the area with visitors from across the nation and right around the world. He believes there is something truly unique about the Port, saying over the years he has recognised the strength of character of our community. He's watched the Port evolve from being a working port to the "fantastic destination" it is today, and notices how the strength of the local character has been retained, and even strengthened over the years.

As a result of his volunteering, Ian discovered the vibrant and diverse music and arts scene in the Port. To help artists, musicians and fans stay in touch, he developed a Facebook group highlighting the cultural opportunities in the area. The Port Adelaide and Coast Live Music and the Arts Group has helped improve connections, and also given Ian a "sense of purpose" in finding the perfect way that he can contribute to the local community.

We thank Ian for volunteering his time for the benefit of the Port community, and the ways in which he enhances the experience of those who visit.

HAVE YOUR SAY

If you drive, ride or walk this way!

During July this year we began consultation to help us draft our first Integrated Transport Strategy (ITS). The ITS will help us to create a well-planned and people-friendly transport network across PAE, particularly in relation to road safety, travel time, parking, cycling and walking and the public transport network. We know that the community has an important part to play in identifying issues and opportunities relevant to transport infrastructure. To help us understand your experiences and perspectives, we created an interactive survey on our interactive consultation site at www.haveyoursaypae.sa.gov.au

The survey even allowed respondents to use a mapping feature to tell us about particular locations of interest or concern. We are now collating all the feedback we received, which will form an important basis for the strategy. If you missed the chance to have your say, don't worry! Once the strategy is drafted, we will share it so we can seek more feedback prior to finalising and adopting the final version, which will guide the development of actions and goals for a better transport network over the next 10 years.

ON THE BEACH

Mats make access easier

We have many paths right along the foreshore to help people access the beach. In addition to this, we also have beach access mats that sit on some of these paths to provide easy access for everyone.

These mats assist with crossing the soft sand to the hard sand. They are helpful for prams or people with mobility limitations, regardless of their age or ability. People using walking sticks, walkers or wheelchairs can use the mats to get safely on to the hard sand. The mats are even useful for ageing dogs who can't manage uneven sand. Access mats locations are chosen for many reasons including proximity to disability car parking and accessible toilets. We also take into account things such as distance from soft sand to hard sand, the width of the path, sand movement, and perhaps most importantly how level the sand is under the path, because to be useful it needs to be relatively flat.

The beach access mats are still in the trial period while we consider public and staff feedback regarding the mats and assess the suitability of various locations. The path we have installed near the Palais will remain at that site.

Beach access mats are sometimes removed due to storms or tidal movements, or for maintenance. They are checked regularly by our foreshore maintenance crew to identify any issues. Each year the beach mats are rolled up over winter and stored elsewhere to prevent damage. We will monitor the changing environment where the rehabilitation of the dune at Semaphore has taken place and make a decision as to the best locations to roll out the mats ready for summer.

2030 HERE WE COME

Updated plan for PAE

Our City Plan was first adopted in 2016, and a lot has certainly happened since then. During May and June this year, we invited our residents, businesses and visitors to review the plan and give us information about what could be changed, added or updated. We received quite a lot of feedback and some truly innovative ideas about the future of our City. The plan has now been updated to reflect the long term aspirations of our Council and our people. The City Plan acts as our guide towards the city we want to see in 2030. Our goals are arranged in five themes- Economy, Community, Placemaking, Heritage and Environment and Leadership. These goals will help us achieve our shared vision for a City that values its diverse community and embraces change through innovation, resilience and community leadership.

You can read the full plan at:

ANCHORS AWAY

Shipbuilding in PAE

Australian Naval Infrastructure are well on the way to completing the largest ever infrastructure investment of its type in Australia's history, and it's right here in the City of PAE. The multi-billion-dollar federal government commitment began with the construction of an expanded shipbuilding precinct in Osborne, which is nearing completion as BAE Systems Australia and ASC Shipbuilding take over the site. This facility will not only transform shipbuilding in Australia, but our local economy in the City of PAE, with incredible opportunities for business, education, employment and infrastructure.

Property valuations

You may have been wondering if property valuations have been impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic. Valuations are supplied by the Valuer-General for residential properties, and by the City Valuer in the case of non-residential properties. Valuations for the 2020-2021 Financial Year were determined based on the property market as at 1 January 2020. Consequently, any change to your property value as a result of COVID-19 will not be reflected in your property valuation until 1 January 2021. BUILDING BOXES FOR BIRDS

Regency Men's shed in full swing

Members of the Regency Community Men's Shed are back in action after a short closure due to COVID-19. They have been building birdhouse boxes that will be set up in the Cudlee Creek area, to provide homes for birds in areas impacted by the fires over Summer. Boxes are currently made in three designs, the largest for kookaburras, medium-sized boxes for crimson rosellas and the smallest boxes for pardalotes. A design for boxes for microbats is also being developed. Men's Shed members are also working on a project to design and create "Little Libraries" which will contain books that can be swapped, and these creations will be placed around the community.

The Regency Community Men's Shed is located at the rear of the Enfield Community Centre, 540 Regency Road, Enfield. The Shed is currently open Monday to Thursday 9am-12 noon with a special women's session Monday 1-3pm. Low cost membership fees apply. SHANX VERY MUCH

Changes to Regency Park Golf course

Big things are happening at our popular Regency Park Golf Course. We will be working in partnership with recently appointed course managers GreenSpace to expand and create what is set to become the best little golf course in Adelaide. A number of changes and upgrades are planned, but the most exciting is the creation of a new mini-golf site 'Shanx', which will inspire a new generation of golfers. Shanx will be a first-class facility that is modern, family-friendly, fun and innovative while keeping a community focus. It will be great for both experienced golfers and those who are new to the game.

There has been a renewed interest in golf over the last few months, because it can still be played while adhering to social distancing guidelines. It's also suitable for people of all ages, meaning it has an intergenerational appeal. Regency Golf course is just one of the three Council-owned golf courses across PAE, the others being at Valley View, and Glanville (pictured on the cover of this edition). There is also a privately owned course at North Haven.

COME OUT AND PLAY

PAE Playgrounds to be upgraded

We have 128 playgrounds across the city and each year we maintain these, upgrade some and completely replace others. How we plan this is based on many factors including the age and condition of the playground. We are planning to upgrade eight playgrounds in 2020-2021 financial year. When designing a playground we aim to provide a range of equipment which is suitable for a variety of ages and abilities. We know kids love to slide, climb, jump and spin! To help us make decisions about which items you would like to see in your local playground when it's time for it to be upgraded, please come down to one of our park days and provide us with your ideas. Park days are held roughly 12 months out from the time the playground is scheduled for replacement. To learn more about how we manage local playgrounds, watch the Playground Q and A video on our website and social media.

SPRING INTO ACTION

Growing for Gold is back

All champions have to start somewhere! Strap on your boots as Growing for Gold returns from 26 September to 25 October this year. It is an opportunity for young people to try a variety of different activities in recreation and sport for free, then if they like what they try, we make it easy to take the next step and join clubs of their choice. To learn more and to view the program of available sports and activities to try, visit www.growingforgold.com.au. Growing for Gold is a collaboration between the City of PAE, City of Salisbury and City of Playford.

Our new live web chat

We've recently added a web chat feature to www.cityofpae.sa.gov.au

If you have a simple question or want to report an issue, type your message in the chat box and a member of staff will quickly assist with your enquiry. After your chat, you can print out a transcript of your conversation.

Did you know...

that all PAE Council buildings are smoke free, and that it is an offence to smoke within 10m of our playgrounds?

These rules are in place to help all members of our community, and especially children, to stay healthy and away from passive smoke. So there's no smoking in council buildings including libraries, Community Centres, halls, public toilets, change rooms, shelter areas, sporting club rooms, depots, and sheds, and this is covered by the Tobacco and E-Cigarettes Product Act 1997 with SAPOL officers authorised to enforce the Act.

SHUT THE FRONT DOOR

Keeping your pets safe

We get the impression that many of the pets of PAE have enjoyed having their owners at home more over the last few months. With families spending more time at home and an increase in the number of people working from home, some pets have had more company than ever. But, we have still had a steady number of pets reported as missing, or found wandering at large. One reason for this could be that while at home, owners don't feel the need to secure gates or close doors as often as they would if they were leaving to go to work. It's a good idea to regularly check your perimeter fence for holes, and make sure you are vigilant about shutting and securing gates.

Our Community Safety Officers have continued to work hard to ensure that lost and wondering pets are reunited with their owners. We have also recently had dog registrations due. Making sure your pet is microchipped and registered will help us to reunite your lost pet with you and avoid it being taken to a shelter.

If you are taking a short break during the September and October School holidays, the RSCPA cat boarding services are now back in operation at Hillcrest. This facility boasts 35 deluxe boarding rooms plus a penthouse suite, for cats and small animals.

PORT ADELAIDE WORKERS MEMORIAL

At a Port Adelaide Council meeting on 23 January 1917 a deputation was made by the Port Adelaide Electoral Committee of the United Labor Party. They asked to erect a memorial drinking fountain on the corner of Commercial Road and St Vincent Street. The fountain was to honour specifically Mr Hugh Garland, a noted Labor activist and member of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers. But it was decided the memorial should commemorate the many Labor leaders who had contributed to the area, some of whom had died during the war.

A concrete bed was laid by the City of Port Adelaide on 1 October and the foundation stone laid 8 November 1918 with Mayor, Mr R H Smith officiating. In September 1921 a gathering of Port Adelaide citizens witnessed the unveiling of the completed Memorial, which featured 46 names of unionists from the area. Names have continued to be added to the Memorial; there are now a total of 136 names inscribed. Planning is now underway to commemorate the memorial for its centenary in 2021.

HOME IS WHERE THE ART IS

Check out these local artistic installations around PAE

Paint Ya Pole

Earlier this year we invited residents to paint stobie poles on local streets. The Paint Ya Pole project helped neighbours connect, and created points of interest in PAE.

Alberton

The Pear Café in Alberton created an Art Trail especially for this year's SALA Festival in August, the permanent features of the trail can still be enjoyed. The central theme of the Art Trail is an exploration of 'Home' and the diversity of meanings, experiences and memories that 'Home' holds for the people in our neighbourhood. On a walk through the Alberton area, you will discover murals, painted stobie poles and installations.

Croydon Park

As part of the Regency Road to Pym Street upgrade, we have supported the R2P Alliance to work with community to design and paint ten poles in Packard Avenue. We have collaborated with residents for design ideas and worked with local artist Tracey Davis from Phantasmagoria to bring them to life.
