

CITY OF
Port Adelaide Enfield

P.A.E today

Community Wellbeing | City Plan 2030 | Supporting Local | Have Your Say

"The City of PAE acknowledges and pays respect to the traditional custodians of the land on which we stand, the Kurna people of the Adelaide Plains and pays respect to Elders past, present and emerging. We recognise and respect their cultural heritage, beliefs and relationships with the land. We acknowledge that they are of continuing importance to the Kurna people living today"

Mayor Claire Boan

Welcome to our special Winter edition of PAE Today. Who would have thought that our world would be turned upside down by the COVID-19 pandemic and that we would be spending more time at home, at arm's length from each other. It has been heartening to see and hear about our wonderful PAE community and I thank you for supporting your families, neighbours, friends and local businesses. We are also here for you when you are seeking help, updates or information about our services and programs.

We have brought our PAE Today publication date forward, to give you an update on what we are doing and how we can support you during COVID-19, and to see you through the colder months ahead. You can also access PAE Today online at www.paetoday.com.au. In this edition you will find the latest news and stories from our community and information about our adapted programs and projects. We also welcome our new Councillor Olivia Colombo who takes her place in Enfield Ward, following a recent supplementary election. We have a special centre spread feature about our upcoming 2020-2021 Annual Business Plan and Budget, and the City Plan 2030. These two important strategic plans have been developed to reflect our vision of PAE, a City that values its diverse community, embraces change through innovation, resilience and leadership. I encourage you as a PAE resident or business to consider these plans and provide us with your feedback. This is an important time to think carefully about how we come together to shape our future and emerge as a stronger and more sustainable City post COVID-19. There is no doubt that your health and living pressures have been impacted by COVID-19. We have acted swiftly to provide assistance for those facing hardships with increased support services for our aged and most vulnerable residents, financial support for rates relief, a rent-free period for all Council owned facilities, and the establishment of a business task force to support local businesses and local jobs. The next twelve months are crucial for us all.

We are now planning for the time when Federal and State Government restrictions are lifting, and new reforms announced.

We will lead our recovery and set our future direction as a vibrant, resilient and liveable City with even stronger community connections. We want you to tell us what support you now require so we can direct these funds to where they will make the greatest difference.

I encourage you to have your say about the 2020-2021 Annual Business Plan and Budget and the City Plan 2030. Simply complete the enclosed postcard and return it to us or go to www.cityofpae.sa.gov.au/have-your-say and complete the survey or email us at consultation@cityofpae.sa.gov.au with Have Your Say in the subject title, before 15 June.

I want you to be part of our future, and to be as proud as I am to live, work and play in PAE.

Stay safe.

Enfield Ward encompasses so much of what is great about South Australia, from our diverse multicultural community that spoils us with amazing food and culture on Prospect Road, Kilburn to our vibrant community centres and sporting clubs that keep our community running and provide a place where residents can come together. However, the best part of our Ward is the people - hard working, decent, genuine and always willing to lend a hand to a neighbour. It is our community spirit that makes our Ward a great place to live.

Cr Barbara Clayton

Having lived here all my life I have witnessed Enfield Ward grow in popularity due to its central location and incredible community spirit. With not one but two amazing community centres, the first Men's Shed in the City of PAE and an abundance of multicultural cuisine and family businesses, it's not surprising that this is a great place to live. I have fought so hard against inappropriate high-rise and am passionate about improving the area for you, the wonderful people that make this community so special and welcoming. My family and I are proud to call Enfield Ward our home.

Cr Carol Martin OAM

I feel very fortunate that I was re-elected in November 2018, with my Enfield Ward councillors working as a team to continue to support the rich, diverse community that live here. The developments along the Prospect Road precinct are bringing positive growth for our economy, and I love sampling all of the delicious cuisine available at cafés and restaurants in the area. Through the long-awaited redevelopment of Blair Athol, which is only 15 minutes from the CBD, this affordable, accessible suburb is being transformed. It's so exciting to see lots of young people moving into our city and enjoying all that Enfield has to offer.

Ward in focus Enfield

The Enfield Ward is bordered by Grand Junction Road, Hampstead Road, a small part of North East Road, and the railway line in Kilburn. It includes the suburbs of Kilburn, Blair Athol, Enfield, Clearview, Manningham and parts of Sefton Park and Broadview. Some parts of the ward are less than ten kilometres from the Adelaide GPO.

Total population
23,679

Total households
10,199

Blair Athol is Celtic for a plain cleared of trees, and takes its name from the home of the Magarey family.

Overseas born
46.7%

Jack Watkins Reserve, Churchill Road, Kilburn | In 1966, Jack Watkins migrated to South Australia from Manchester, UK with his wife and two sons. He worked in the construction industry and was an active union member and advocate of workers' rights. Jack fought tirelessly to highlight asbestos issues, improve legislation and raise awareness of asbestos related diseases. With local residents, Jack fought for the clean-up of the Jack Watkins Reserve site and its conversion into a public park, which is now also home to a memorial for workers who died from asbestos related diseases.

Notes from PAE Council Meetings

March 2020

- Resolved to demolish existing and build a new toilet block at Blair Athol reserve
- Endorsed our Active Recreation Facilities Plan
- Heard deputation from 9 year old Amber of Hillcrest, leading us to look at banning smoking within 10m of public play spaces used by children

April 2020

- Considered parking issues on narrow streets, in particular around Semaphore, Largs Bay and Exeter
- Proposed final amendments to our Arts and Culture Strategy before it is released for consultation
- Held an additional Special Council to make decisions around our response to COVID-19

Community Wellbeing Is Our Priority

A lot has changed for all of us over the last three months. Since the Coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak began, the Elected Members and staff of PAE have been working to ensure we can minimise risk, keep our residents safe and take care of the most vulnerable people in our community. Led by our COVID-19 Incident Leadership Team, we have been monitoring the status of the pandemic, and responding appropriately to help play our part in ensuring community safety. We take advice on all public health matters from the State and Federal health departments and comply with restrictions and recommendations announced by the national cabinet of the Prime Minister and South Australia's Premier. We have also adopted our own precautionary measures to protect members of the community, our volunteers and our staff. The pandemic has had an impact on the programs and services we can provide to the community, but we are committed to continuing to operate as many services as possible while keeping people safe. This includes:

- Services to our most vulnerable community members.
- Online programs through our libraries, community centres and recreational facilities.
- Click & Collect at our Libraries and continuing our home library service
- Provision of Council customer service through our phones and website
- Continuing to assess planning and building applications

We are continuing to provide essential services like waste collection, community safety services, public health services and environmental care. Plus, we have also put in place additional services and support in many of our teams. We've also been so impressed to hear how you, your groups and businesses have adapted your lifestyles, behaviours and ways of working to help reduce the spread of COVID-19.

The situation around restrictions is changing daily. This information is correct at the time of going to print, and we regularly update our website, and create social media posts relating to the services we are providing. We look forward to reopening our facilities and recommencing our community programs as soon as we are able.

Our Incident Leadership Team, the Elected Members and all of the staff have been planning for our recovery. Part of this forward planning has been captured in our Annual Business Plan for 2020-2021, and we invite you to have a say on what has been proposed.

Although we come from diverse backgrounds, the people of PAE have always demonstrated a real commitment to looking out for and supporting each other, and this level of community connection will hold us in good stead once the pandemic is over.

RATES RELIEF

We are aware that many people or business owners in our community are currently experiencing financial difficulty as a direct result of COVID-19. If this is the case for you, we would like to offer you our support and work together with you to ensure you have the best financial outcome in relation to payment of Council rates that suits your particular situation and needs.

Under our existing Rates Hardship Policy, any person who owns property in PAE may apply for rates relief if they are experiencing financial hardship. This applies to those property owners that are currently impacted financially as a result of COVID-19.

There are a number of options that can help you at this time including a deferral of this current rates quarterly payment or setting up an individual payment plan. If you are financially impacted by COVID-19, we encourage you to make contact with us and to discuss your individual situation and the rates relief options that may be available to you.

WE'RE ALL IN THIS TOGETHER

Over the past few months, there have been some changes to our State and Federally funded community services programs which support our older people and people with disability. However, we are still providing modified shopping, transport and maintenance support to existing clients. We are also regularly checking in on our most isolated and vulnerable elderly residents by telephone and have capacity to support new clients if needed. If you know of an older person in the community who could do with an extra hand at the moment, or who is at risk of becoming isolated, we can have a chat with them about what we can do to help. A local task group has also been formed to support Aboriginal elders and families with housing and other support. We also offer a range of grants to support the community.

Our Reconnect team continues to offer counselling, mediation and other practical support to young people at risk of homelessness. As a response to COVID-19, we are also offering a counselling service for young people and their families who have been significantly affected. The service is available 9am-5pm, Monday-Friday.

The COVID-19 mental health support line is a public and free service for all South Australians. The line is available 8am – 8pm, 7 days a week and staffed by Lifeline counsellors. Phone, video and call-back support is available.

SUPPORTING LOCAL

City of PAE businesses of all sizes have been hit hard by COVID-19 and continue to be. We're proud of our many businesses that pivoted as the crisis unfolded, responding to the changing guidelines so they could keep operating to serve the community and employing their staff. Our BeKind PAE page was put together to promote businesses offering extra services, takeaway and delivery. You can also check directly with your favourites to see what they are offering.

GOOD NEIGHBOURS

There have certainly been some innovative, community-based solutions cropping up around the world to address social isolation. And in our own community, we've seen some heart-warming examples of what neighbours are doing to support those that live on their street and in their neighbourhoods.

Got a great neighbour? Enter our Appreciate your Neighbour Competition. Tell us in 300 words or less what you appreciate about your neighbour, with a chance to win them one of our hampers full of local SA produce valued at $100!

OUR SEVEN WAYS

Looking after your wellbeing

For all of us the current global situation has brought about some changes to the way we live day to day, how we work and how we spend our free time. For many these changes have left us feeling less optimistic, less positive and a little more anxious. There is something we can do to help relieve these feelings and to take care of our wellbeing.

The 7 Ways to Wellbeing is a set of behaviours which have been proven, through extensive research worldwide, to be effective building positive wellbeing. Like physical fitness, you can strengthen your psychological health in lots of small ways every day. This will help you cope with the stresses that this changing situation brings. Our 7 Ways to Wellbeing program introduces you to simple and effective tips to improve your psychological and emotional health. Like physical fitness, you can strengthen your mental health in lots of small ways from day to day. This will help you cope with the stresses that this changing situation brings.

CONNECT

Make time to connect with people, family, friends and neighbours. This could be through phone or video calls, by posting a card or letter or even driving by with a wave. We can practice physical distancing but stay socially connected to those we love and care about.

KEEP LEARNING

It's a great time to brush up on an old skill or revisit an old hobby. If you have a computer you could take an online course, tutorial or video. If not then, perhaps you could read a book or learn to paint or draw.

TAKE NOTICE

Go outside and stand in the garden, notice the changes around you. Dig in the soil, pull up some weeds, enjoy the sunshine and fresh air. Sit quietly with your eyes closed and listen to the sounds around you, hear the birds, the wind, the traffic and your own heartbeat. Mindfulness is a good way to reconnect with yourself and improve your wellbeing.

BE ACTIVE

With plenty of open space and coastal paths, you can take a walk outdoors. Exercise produces endorphins which build positive feelings. It is important for our mind and body to be active. A daily walk is a great way to exercise and stay connected to your neighbourhood. You can be active at home as well - throw a ball with the kids, dance around the house or enjoy one of our live streamed exercise videos.

GIVE BACK

It's been proven - helping others helps us to feel good! Give your time, talent and energy to family, friends and others in your community. Some people are feeling a little alone right now, so have a think about how you could help those around you. Assistance with shopping, preparing a meal or providing transport to medical appointments are all great ways to do something safe and simple for someone else.

EAT WELL

Eating well nourishes our body and mind. Food fuels us and provides energy, improved sleep and concentration. If your routine has changed, make sure you schedule times to eat and stay hydrated with water. Eat fresh foods including fruit and vegetables. You might like to include a smoothie or get the little ones to help you cook.

SLEEP WELL

We all know what it feels like to not get enough sleep. Poor sleep health has a direct effect on our mental health and immune function. We become less able to fight infection and function well. Over time, lack of sleep or poor-quality sleep amplifies depression and anxiety. Go to bed at the same time each night, have your bedroom dark and cool, turn off the TV and other screens an hour before bedtime and read a book instead. Try to avoid caffeine after dinner and going to bed on a full stomach.

MAKING PLANS FOR PAE

Have your say on the future

Every year we create a draft Annual Business Plan and Budget. To prepare the draft documents, we access the most up-to-date information about our community and consider what we know about our area. We also review the feedback we have received throughout the year and include perspectives gathered from our community survey which has over 2,300 participants annually. The Annual Business Plan and Budget work together to show the programs, activities and outcomes we plan to deliver with and for our community in the coming financial year. The draft Plan sets our priority for the coming year and documents how we intend to measure our achievements. The draft Budget has accurate information about our financial position and proposed spending. Your feedback can help shape the Annual Business Plan and Budget for 2020-2021 and we encourage you to review the draft Plan which is available on our website, or you can call us to have copies sent out. This time around we have considered the impacts that COVID-19 will have in our community, not just for this financial year, but beyond. In this years' proposed plan we have been able to demonstrate our commitment to supporting our community and businesses to recover from the pandemic, through the creation of a $2.4 million COVID-19 Fund.

Other highlights of the 2020-2021 Annual Business Plan and Budget

- Building and operating a Material Recovery Facility in conjunction with Charles Sturt Council to reduce landfill and generate employment
- Investment in stormwater management to keep homes and businesses safe
- Traffic Management improvements to improve access and parking across our city
- The upgrade of seven playgrounds
- Tree planting to green our city and increase our canopy coverage, supporting key climate change initiatives
- Commence streetscaping works along Prospect Road at Kilburn
- Improvements to community facilities, sporting clubs and grounds such as the development of Regency Park, and upgrade to facilities at LJ Lewis Reserve and Eastern Parade Reserve

To help us help our community to recover well, our proposed budget includes a modest rate increase of 1.5% equivalent to $16 a year for the average ratepayer, and we offer a number of options for those experiencing financial hardship. The City of PAE will continue to be one of the lowest rating metropolitan councils with Adelaide.

RIISING TO THE CHALLENGES

2030 here we come!

In light of all the changes that have been happening, and because it's important to capture how we are adapting to the evolving state, national and global environment, we've made some changes to our City Plan 2030.

This plan was first adopted in 2016, and outlines our ambitious leadership, community, economic, placemaking, environmental and heritage goals. It is the blueprint for everything we do, and it has been reviewed and updated to reflect the longer-term priorities of the current Council, some of whom were elected in November 2018. Together, we want to continue to give residents, businesses and visitors confidence that we are shaping the future of PAE as a liveable, sustainable and resilient City. The plan is available online, or we can post you a copy.

In 2030 we are a...

- Thriving economy and a business-friendly City
- Safe, vibrant, inclusive and welcoming city for our residents, businesses and visitors alike
- Low carbon, water sensitive and climate resilient City and our built heritage is protected, embraced and celebrated
- Unique and distinctive collection of active places, created and cared for through strong partnerships
- Collaborative, innovative, and high performing leader within local government

We encourage you to give feedback at any time about what you believe makes our community great, and where you think we need to focus more efforts.

This year it's particularly important that we hear from you about your experiences in PAE, and your hopes and aspirations for our future. We want to know if you think we are focusing on the right things and find out if there are things we need to stop doing, do more of or start doing to help improve life for our community. We'd love to get your feedback on our proposed Annual Plan, Budget and City Plan and hear directly from you how we can better support you.

The quickest and easiest way to have your say is to review the information and plans: www.cityofpae.sa.gov.au/have-your-say and complete the survey online or:

- complete this postcard and return it to us - no postage required
- send us an email to: consultation@cityofpae.sa.gov.au with Have your Say in the subject title

Feedback must be received by 15 June 2020

Work on our Inclusive Communities Plan has been continuing. This plan highlights our continued commitment to access and inclusion in all aspects of community life and requires support and activity from all of our teams. Our staff and Elected Members are committed to creating a city which is accessible for everyone and where everybody feels connected and valued.

GREY DAYS MADE BRIGHTER

Paint Ya Poles

Residents in the Exeter area might have noticed some new community artworks that add a splash of colour to the streets. Local artist Karen Forde applied for permission to create 12 mosaic stobie poles in her street, with input from other members of this close-knit community. The resulting textured poles include wall tiles, broken china and other small objects such as beads that have been locally donated. Neighbourhood families have participated in the project, designing and implementing mosaics and paste-ups. The poles are not the only example of improvements to place in Exeter. A few streets over, a Little Library has been constructed (pictured p.4), where books and other items can be freely swapped and traded around a community. The creation of the decorative little library structures was undertaken by a group of year 11 and 12 students with an intellectual disability, as part of their SACE integrated learning final design, research and construction project. These bright projects are just one example of the great initiative we have seen recently around our communities. We're here to support projects like these, and help ensure they meet safety guidelines, so if you would like to 'paint ya pole' or get connected and creative in your suburb, give Annabel a call ☎ 8405 6909

RETHINKING WASTE

Let's send less to landfill

The average household in PAE produces 520 kilograms of general waste annually, and this weight may increase as people are spending more time at home. We're encouraging everyone to rethink their waste, by avoiding and reducing the amount of waste generated, and reusing and repurposing items that might have typically found their way to landfill. To avoid and reduce, consider putting a "No Junk Mail" sticker on your letter box, taking your own bags when shopping and opting to buy in bulk to reduce the amount of packaging and single use plastic you use. To reuse and repurpose items, consider how you can take items you no longer use and give them a new life. This could mean repairing and altering clothes, using jars to store rice, flour, herbs or coins, or using single side printed paper for notes or shopping lists. Make sure you are using your yellow kerbside bin for any material that can be remanufactured into new products. Your yellow recycling bins accepts glass bottles and jars, steel and aluminium cans, rigid plastic bottles and containers, metal and plastic lids placed inside a larger metal or plastic container. The largest proportion of waste thrown out by households is organic waste (food waste and garden waste). Use your green bin for food waste and garden organic waste, which includes fruit, vegetables, meat, bones, eggshells, dairy, coffee grounds and teabags, soiled pizza boxes, tissues and paper towel, grass clippings, branches and leaves, flowers and sawdust.

Using your blue lidded landfill bin is the last option. Not sure which bin to put it in? Visit the Which Bin website:

With more cars parked on our streets during working hours, please take a moment to think about where you place your bins so they are away from obstructions. Keep bins at least 30cm apart, and 1m from cars and posts. Don't forget to take your bins back onto your property once they have been emptied. If your bin ever gets missed call 1800 777 844 and a truck will come back and empty it.

WHY WASTE IT?

Spring cleaning this Winter

Being at home more has meant that many of us have been on a mission to sort out and tidy up our homes. This has meant lots of us have bagged and boxed heaps of stuff to give away. Unfortunately, most charity shops are not able to accept donations of clothing, furniture or bric-a-brac at the moment. Please always check about the capacity of your local charity store to accept donations before you leave items in front of the store. Charities have to spend money disposing of items that are unusable or have been left to become weather damaged. So, sort out and bag or box materials that can be donated at a later time. Good quality clothing is accepted by many charity shops, and there are also a number of places that will accept old, worn out clothing for reuse.

Many of us have also had particular kinds of waste created as we set up home offices. If you are cleaning up old files and paperwork, make sure you recycle paper in the yellow recycle bin. Confidential documents can be shredded and placed in the green organics bin. Officeworks can accept printer and ink cartridges, mobile phones, batteries, pens and markers and e-waste. Light globes can be dropped off to any Mitre10 or Banner Hardware, Ikea and DeLights stores as well as Unplug N' Drop locations. Unwanted books can be donated to second-hand bookstores around the state, however you might need to box them up and hold onto them until they are ready to recommence taking donations. Bottles and cans go to the Scout Recycling Centre (326 Commercial Road, Port Adelaide) to be recycled under the container deposit scheme. Visit the Lions webpage for information about how to pass on old reading glasses and hearing aids. Most non-perishable food that is unopened and in date can be donated to the Hutt Street Centre, or Baptist Care SA. The Animal Welfare League in Gillman are after good quality clam shell pools, "Breeders Choice" recycled paper cat litter and towels. Please check out our Tricky Waste Items webpage for options listed for batteries, building materials, electronic waste, paint, scrap metal, tyres and more.

We are providing food safety advice for restaurant and cafe owners whose trade has been affected by COVID-19 restrictions, and who are changing business models as a result. We are also waiving the usual inspection fees prescribed in our Food Safety Inspection and Fees Policy.

MRF UPDATE

Material Recycling Facility

In August last year, we entered a partnership with the City of Charles Sturt and resolved to construct our own Material Recovery Facility (MRF). Our Councils are passionate about taking control of our recyclables and finding new ways to encourage and support local businesses and the circular economy. Over the last few months our teams have been working rapidly to achieve some important milestones, including formally establishing the new subsidiary Central Adelaide Waste and Recycling Authority (CAWRA). We are now working through the governance arrangements for this body and establishing the Board. The application to develop the MRF site in Kilburn was approved just before the Easter break and we are now looking for design and construction proposals. The site itself is also being prepared, through the relocation of Council vehicles and other storage items from the site. Despite all of the recent challenges, we are still aiming to commence construction of the facility later this year. Construction of the MRF is our major project for 2020-2021, but this investment will pay off by reducing the amount of waste sent to landfill and allowing us to locally manage our recyclable materials.

CLICK AND COLLECT

Reconnecting the City of PAE

We are happy to advise that you can still borrow books, DVDs, magazines and puzzles from your local library. Place items on hold from any of our five City of PAE Libraries via the online catalogue. You can also call your local library for a chat about what piques your interest and let our friendly staff pick a selection for you, based upon your needs and preferences. Please be advised that we are carefully following COVID-19 social distancing and safety procedures. When you arrive at your designated library, simply check in by phone and our staff will let you know where to safely collect your items. Click & Collect services are currently being offered from Port Adelaide, Greenacres and Parks Libraries from 10am - 2pm Monday to Saturday. At the end of April we had already provided over 15,000 loan items to members through our Click & Collect service.

PAE FOR THE COURSE

Golf still on the cards

Our three golf courses at Glanville, Valley View and Regency Park have restrictions in place to comply with social distancing, but that doesn't mean that you can't get out and enjoy a round if you stay safe. We have some new rules in place including having all players sign in and out, no touching the flags, and putting disposable inserts into cups on the greens. Each hole is also limited to two players at a time, with a 12-minute gap between tee off times. There are currently great deals if you want to get out on the course. Seniors can play 18 holes for $10 per player, and two Juniors (14 and under) can play 18 holes for $10.

A JOLT OF ENERGY

Charging stations installed

We are committed to sustainable transport and green energy in the City of PAE and are pleased to now have our first publicly available electric vehicle charging stations ready for use. The first charging stations are located on Nile Street in Port Adelaide and are part of the Chargefox network, with electricity provided at a subsidised rate. Additional electric charging stations will soon be installed near the kiosk in Largs Bay, to be followed by another five to ten stations. We have partnered with Jolt who will be installing at no cost, with funding coming from advertising on the side of the units.

FIGHT FRUIT FLY

Working together on pest eradication

Fruit fly can have a devastating impact on the South Australian horticultural industry. PIRSA are currently fighting multiple outbreaks within the City of PAE; in suburbs surrounding Rosewater, Blair Athol, Croydon Park, Angle Park and Semaphore Park.

You may have seen some people in orange overalls walking around local streets. They are working for PIRSA to fight the current fruit fly outbreaks by applying an organic fruit fly bait once a week and pick up fallen fruit. To assist in the fight against fruit fly, don't compost fruit but instead put it in your green bin, don't share your fruit and please allow PIRSA access to your yard if required. We took a camera out to learn about how they are working to eradicate this pest from our suburbs and protect South Australian growers, and you can watch this video on our website. Fruit Fly Hotline:

CREATIVE KITCHENS

Eat well, reduce waste

For the time being we are being encouraged to stay home and limit the number of visits we make to the shops. What better time to save some money, get creative in the kitchen and reduce your food waste by using last night's leftovers for tonight's dinner. For some inspiration on dinner ideas we have come up with some favourites:

Lamb Shepherd's Pie | With a leftover lamb roast and any veggies in the fridge you can give a shepherd's pie a go. It's a great way of using up leftovers and you can even add a pastry case if you have some pastry in the freezer.

Roast and veggie fritters | A simple and quick meal is savoury fritters and you can add shredded roast meat or keep it vegetarian and with peas, corn, grated zucchini and carrot.

BBQ Chicken | Having left-overs from a roast chicken can be very versatile and could go into a curry, pie or even a toasted sandwich

Pies | If you have pastry and left-over meat, veggies or even last night's curry, making a left-overs pie is a perfect idea.

Pizza | Always a great way to end the week, making pizza at home can use up many ingredients you have in the cupboards. If you don't have pizza bases you can try wraps or pita bread as the base.

Soups | A healthy, hearty and budget friendly way to use up some of those vegetables in your fridge. You can keep it simple or try some new recipes. A family favourite might be pumpkin or potato and leak or pea and ham. There are so many great recipes to try.

Fried rice | It's a great way to make use of cooked rice and you can add any extra vegetables you may have.

Work has continued on the Victoria Road Air Quality Study. This is a community co-design project involving a Community Panel, the City of Port Adelaide Enfield and the Environment Protection Authority. The study will monitor outdoor air to analyse air quality and emissions from traffic on Victoria Road and the surrounding residential areas. It will look at how air quality may vary along the road, how far into the residential areas it goes, and how it may be affected by variations in weather conditions.

KEEPING SCORE

Preserving a piece of history

The scoreboard at Alberton Oval has adorned the south-eastern pocket for decades, watching over and keeping score over countless victories for Port Adelaide in that time. An independent engineer's assessment and report undertaken last year, confirmed that the scoreboard was unsafe and needed to be removed for public safety. While the scoreboard was not heritage listed, we recognise the historical importance of it in the history of the Port Adelaide Football Club and heritage of the region. We have retained the scoreboard fascia and much of the original brickwork. We hope to see it suitably displayed at Alberton Oval as an important part of Port Adelaide Football Club's memorabilia in the future in line with the wishes of the Club and community. The City of PAE has been working with the Port Adelaide Football Club on a suitable modern replacement scoreboard that is appropriate for today's needs and long into the future.

KAURNA MURAL BRINGS COLOUR

New artwork for Roy Marten Park

Local Kurna/Narrunga/Ngarrindjeri/Italian Artist Tony Wilson was commissioned to create a mural for Roy Marten Park, Taperoo to reflect the Kurna history of the site. Tony, who was awarded the City of PAE's ATSI Award for Contribution by an Artist in 2017, grew up in the local area.

Tony says "this painting depicts the local Kurna area in which the park is situated and symbolizes a story shared by Local Elder Uncle Lewis O'Brien." He explained that "the Kurna people's movements were aligned with the seasons...from the foothills in the winter to the coast in the warmer months. There were campsites along the river and people used to walk from the river to the sea through this area to access an important freshwater site" located in the adjacent White Hollow Reserve, or "Snake Pit" as it is known by locals. Uncle Lewis also said that "Lefevre Peninsula was populated by emus, which was an important mainland food source for the Kurna people", which Tony has also reflected in his painting. Roy Marten Park was upgraded in 2018 and is a vibrant community recreation space, incorporating a dog park, adventure/nature play, plaza, BBQ, picnic shelters, park furniture, public toilets and the previously installed public art commission 'Tent Line'.

TORRENS ISLAND

Torrens Island is a long and narrow low-lying island in the Port River Estuary. It is completely disconnected from the mainland and bordered by narrow beaches and mangroves. Today, the island is accessed by few, with the northern section of the island protected as a conservation park and the southern side used for a power station. In the past, the island had a significant role in migrant history. From as early as 1855, Torrens Island was used as a quarantine station to isolate people arriving in South Australia who were suspected of carrying contagious diseases. The first quarantine accommodation on the island consisted of military-style tents. By the early 1910s, buildings including a luggage and disinfecting block, boiler house, hospital, morgue and cottages were constructed. The station was self-sustainable and had facilities for power, water and sewerage. On arrival to Torrens Island, quarantined passengers that contracted a disease or had been in immediate contact with those infected were sent straight to the Isolation Hospital. The other passengers would undergo a cleansing process with a carbolic bath, and their clothing was disinfected. After this, they would be assigned to their living quarters where they would stay for a fortnight. Over the 14 days on the island, a community spirit would often develop amongst the confined people, and at the end of their quarantine, a party and dance were held. Torrens Island was the first experience of Australia for many migrants. During the First World War, part of Torrens Island was used as an internment camp for hundreds of German men, who were considered 'enemy aliens'. Wartime censorship meant that people outside knew little about the camp. In 1966, the Quarantine Station on Torrens Island admitted its last passengers and formally closed in 1980. Many of the station's buildings were auctioned and removed, some, however, remain and are on the State Heritage Register. If you are interested in exploring the island, the South Australian Maritime Museum host tours annually of the Quarantine Station. Visit their website for further information.

Winter is coming, and although you might not be able to attend events and activities in the same ways, there are plenty of online opportunities to get involved.

Zoom into the Online Arena

There are many exciting online resources available for free with your library card. These include ebooks, films, newspapers, magazines and even short courses. To access these resources, you just need your library card number. If you don't have one, that's no problem! You can join up online via the catalogue or simply give us a call and we'll do it over the phone for you.

<https://onecard.network>

Your Guide to Access

The Tutorial section on our website has step by step videos that will guide you through how to access over 30,000 movies and 40,000 books, eBooks and audiobooks. Our staff have curated lists of home learning resources, arts and culture links and TED talks and also challenge you to escape from the virtual escape rooms! Please note, some resources may require you to download an app to access them. As always, if you have any problems or questions, just give us a call! Customer service is currently available 9am - 6pm on weekdays and 10am - 2pm on weekends.

eStorytime

Storytelling is an important part of a child's development and helps to inspire curiosity, imagination and communication. Reading and playing are a great way to bond with your child and we'd love to still be a part of your regular routine, even though we can't currently see each other in person. Our eStorytime app is updated weekly with stories, songs and activities to help keep your family connected to the libraries. If you need a hand, drop us a message - we're with you! Check it out on your computer, phone or tablet and we'll update it weekly with stories, songs and activities.

Online STEM Space

This virtual library space has been set up to support our new online STEM programs. It provides reference resources, links, files and other information to get you started on your learning journey. STEM Education is a multidisciplinary approach to hands-on learning and uses enquiry techniques, problem-solving, self-directed learning and teamwork. It combines theory and practical skills together with critical and thinking where kids can invent their own projects and pathways to success.

Contribute to the Collection

What has life been like for you and your family during this pandemic? How has your life changed and been impacted? Looking back over history, outbreaks have shaped our world. They have started riots, propelled health innovations, encouraged new ways of thinking and taken countless lives. Our Local History Team are based at the Port Adelaide Library. They collect and care for history relating to our city which includes objects, books, documents and photographs. Their most recent project involves archiving the story of COVID-19 and its impact on the City of PAE. Collecting this information will be useful for future generations and will preserve its history. It is important to collect a wide range of personal experiences and perspectives, so we want to hear your story! Please tell us about your experiences and send your story to the team.

Local, Property and Family History at your Fingertips

The team are also offering one on one history research sessions via Zoom or phone. They can help you research your suburb, property history or help you with any other local history enquiries about your own family. One popular family history site, Ancestry.com was previously only available through the library's computer network, however for a short time only you can enjoy full access to this valuable resource from the comfort of your own home.

Edu-tainment Opportunities

With the help of Zoom and social media, our library and community centre staff, and guest presenters have been delivering workshop style sessions on a range of topics. We've been gardening with Kym from Port Adelaide Food garden, stretching with Chantelle from Seaside Pilates and cartooning with Claudio from ToonWorld. You can also access computing sessions from Kilburn and a variety of exercise sessions from the Lights. There is no better time to learn something new or join in on our online discussions which include everything from COVID-19 advice for families to artificial intelligence lectures from a leading South Australian scientist. Keep an eye on our social media accounts for libraries and community centres, so you can stay informed about online sessions.

Weekly News Updates

We've continued with our commitment to deliver weekly news video updates, with Ed now broadcasting all the key information each Monday, direct from his living room. View the videos from our homepage and on our @CityofPAE social media, every Monday afternoon.

WE'RE STILL HERE FOR YOU

Despite the changes that COVID-19 has brought, we are still operating across the organisation at our usual capacity, and in many cases doing even more to respond to and serve our community.

Midway through April, we looked at some community touchpoints across the organisation and found some interesting results. When looking at the number of service requests from the PAE community, we compared January to April 2020 to same time 2019 and found that results were similar at around 25,000 incoming calls for both periods, all coming in at a usual steady rate across each week.

We have seen an increase in the number of emails received to our main contact address, recording our highest ever number of inbound emails over a four-week period from mid-March to mid-April.

Social media and our website have been our main communications channels to the community. We had 1,082,702 impressions or search results during the first two weeks of April, compared to 324,505 last year and over 31,200 engagements or online conversations which is a 70% increase from this time last year. Our community has really embraced social media to communicate with us!

Our new www.cityofpae.sa.gov.au website has also proved to be a popular resource, with over 190,000 page views for March and April.

It is another key way we can keep you informed about changes to service provision, and with a more prominent and improved search function, it's now easier than ever to quickly find the information you are after.

We are constantly adapting our systems and processes to ensure that we are able to provide the high-quality level of customer service that you are used to receiving from the City of PAE.

No matter our age or circumstances, we all benefit from good conversation. Our Chatters are volunteers armed with a bright voice and time to talk. If you're stuck at home more than you'd like to be and feel like you could do with a good chat on the phone each week, or you'd like to join our team of Chatters, let us know:
